

Statewide eQuality Convening

Building Safer and More Affirming Systems of Care for LGBTQ+ Youth

The eQuality Project at the Center for Children & Youth Justice is pleased to announce the Second eQuality Convening on June 24, 2020, to be held virtually. The eQuality Convening brings together teams who have implemented the Protocol for Safe & Affirming Care in their respective courts, agencies, and organizations. We also welcome community partners, policy makers, and other stakeholders interested in building safer and more affirming systems of care for LGBTQ+ youth and young adults. This is an opportunity to meet, learn, ask questions, and share experiences.

Details, including a registration link, are below. Please feel free to forward to others who may be interested. We look forward to seeing you on the 24th.

Where: Virtual Zoom meeting

When: June 24, 2020
10:30 - 3:30 PDT (we anticipate providing a 30 minute lunch break)
Note that while we originally anticipated rescheduling to an in-person event, we think the safest option is to meet virtually this year. We look forward to an in-person event in 2021.

Who: Any youth serving professional, volunteer, caregiver, policy maker, or other Stakeholder.

Cost: This event is FREE.

Register: HERE (once you input the registration information, we will send you a calendar invite with a link to the Zoom meeting)

Agenda: Please see below. We are pleased to announce this year's keynote speaker, Jonathan Leggette. Jonathan will provide both a keynote address and workshop.

Keynote Speaker - Jonathan Leggette

Jonathan(Johnny) Leggette is an enthusiastic, unapologetic, black trans intersex femme. They are an undergraduate student at the Evergreen State College, studying marine biology and anthropology. Outside of academics, Jonathan works as the peer coordinator for queer and trans students of color. Off campus, they are a driven and innovative, intersectional, intersex activist who has traveled across the U.S. raising intersex awareness on college campuses and at conferences ranging from Creating Change in Philadelphia to Rutgers University. They work with interACT Youth to advocate for intersex youth and fight against medically unnecessary surgeries that are performed on babies and children. Jonathan makes sure to keep intersectionality and equity at the center of all of their work inside and outside of the classroom.
