

CHILD PARENT PSYCHOTHERAPY TRAINING OPPORTUNITY

In response to a growing recognition of the need for mental health services that address trauma for very young children and their families, a multisector partnership is bringing Child Parent Psychotherapy (CPP) training to Washington State with the goals of training 45 clinicians in this nationally recognized, evidence-based practice, and establishing local training expertise. The partnership is offering CPP training because it is one of the only evidence-based mental health interventions for children 0–3 who have experienced trauma, it has cultural responsiveness as a core element, and it is effective in many different communities, including immigrant/refugee, African American and Latinx communities.

TRAINING SCHEDULE

Successful applicants will participate in an 18-month training process that includes:

- Initial 3-day workshop DECEMBER 2–4, 2019
- Two 2-day booster sessions (or competency building workshops)
 - One held 6 months after the initial workshop
 - One held 12 months after the initial workshop
- Case consultation in person or via telephone (2 times a month for 18 months)

PARTICIPANT REQUIREMENTS

Participation will be limited to organizations who are committed to sending at least three practicing mental health clinicians who are either licensed or actively pursuing licensure. Participants will be selected through a competitive application process. Applicants must be currently working with at least four early childhood clients suitable for CPP or have the ability to do so during the course of the training.

APPLICATION

Please fill out a short survey HERE by September 30 if your agency would be interested in participating. If your agency is eligible to participate, you will be asked to fill out a full application with more details about your agency and prospective trainees. Complete applications are due by October 30.
